Letter from the Director

This is an exciting opportunity to join the People's History Museum (PHM) as a member of the leadership team with strategic responsibility for finance as well as line management responsibility for visitor experience and operations. As the museum builds on its remarkable success and achievements to date and looks ahead, this role will help transform and shape an even stronger and more impactful organisation for the future.

In early 2020 the museum celebrated its tenth birthday (as well as thirty years in Greater Manchester) and work started on a 2020-30 vision process to take the museum into its next decade and beyond. This role will work with the rest of leadership team, Trustees, staff, volunteers, stakeholders and others to continue work on this strategic programme from 2021.

The impact of Covid-19 has been significant for the museum with challenges faced and opportunities realised. Enterprise activity is being reviewed and fundraising continues to be crucial to the museum's future with a need for strong financial information and support to drive income as PHM responds to, and recovers from, the pandemic. Digital systems and processes have become even more important and this role will drive digital change in their team in connection with PHM's organisation-wide digital journey.

Making best use of PHM buildings and assets will feature heavily in future strategic and business planning, alongside the continued importance of a friendly, passionate and professional PHM welcome from our visitor services team. This role will work with a fantastic team who all strive to deliver excellent services for everyone who comes to the museum or engages with us online or from afar.

With ambitious plans taking shape, PHM is looking for someone who is a strategic thinker with an eye on the horizon, helping PHM to look ahead with confidence and ambition and make best use of its finances, its building, its resources and its people. They will demonstrate strong leadership skills including team development, motivation and communication with strong financial and operations experience. They will also believe passionately in everything that the museum stands for and the amazing award-winning work we deliver in collaboration with our communities, planning and delivering exceptional visitor and customer services.

Working alongside our Head of Collections & Engagement and Head of Business Development, the Head of Finance will ensure all services and teams are working effectively across the museum as part of a joined-up approach to delivering the museum's ambitious aims and objectives as the 'home of ideas worth fighting for'.

We look forward to receiving your application.

Best wishes,

About us

People's History Museum is the national museum of democracy, telling the story of its development in Britain: past, present, and future. We provide opportunities for people of all ages to learn about, be inspired by and get involved in ideas worth fighting for; ideas such as equality, social justice, co-operation, and a fair world for all.

The museum currently welcomes a local, national and international audience (totalling 125,000 people each year) as well as reaching people online through our digital activities. We are keen to involve audiences and communities in all aspects of our work and to use models of co-curation, collaboration and crowd-sourcing when developing and delivering our programmes. Engaging people directly in the work of the museum helps to build a passionate and committed audience who become supporters and advocates for PHM, while also ensuring we are representative of many different communities and able to provide an inclusive space for their voices, their stories and their ideas.

Over the coming three years our innovative programme led approach will be exploring some important subjects and issues relevant to us all today including migration (extended into 2021), disability rights and activism (in 2022) and climate change.

PHM has an annual turnover of c.£1.5 million, employs 36 members of staff and has a team of freelance staff, community programme team members, and volunteers. PHM is funded by Arts Council England as a National Portfolio Organisation (NPO) and by the Greater Manchester Combined Authority (GMCA) Culture and Social Impact Fund. These two core funders provide a combined total of 50% of the museum's funding which is further supported by trust and foundation fundraising, individual giving, sponsorship and its wholly-owned subsidiary, the National Museum of Labour History Trading Company, which operates the running of the shop, café and venue hire service.

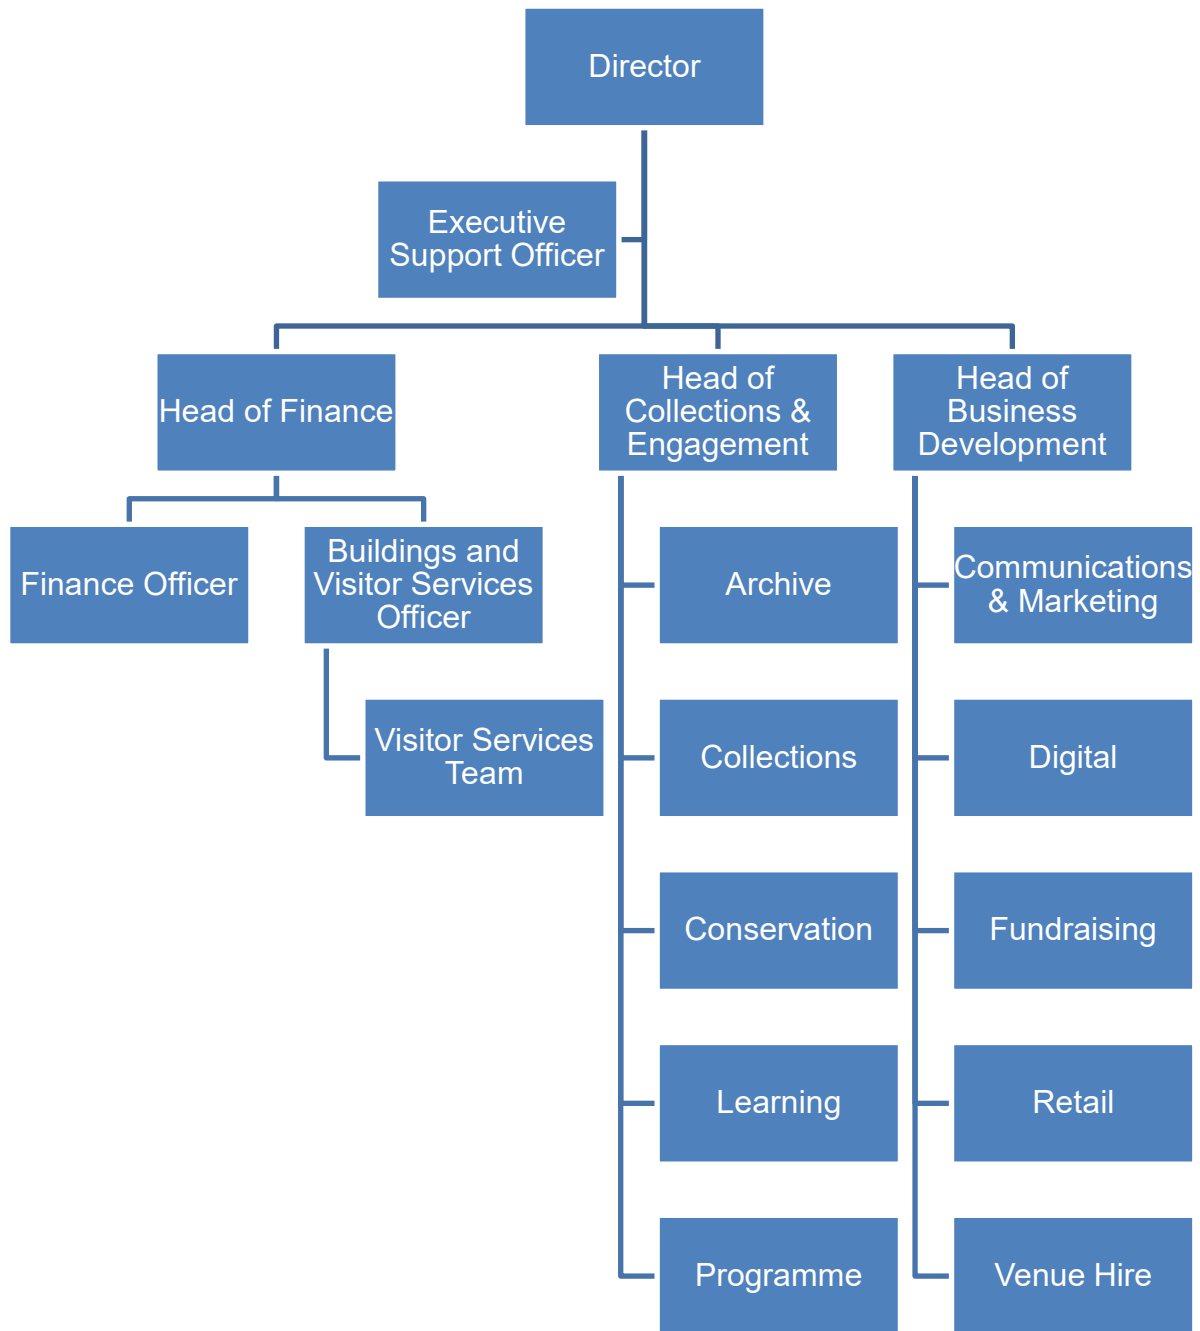

The museum is an independent museum, charitable trust and company limited by guarantee. The museum has a Board of Trustees as well as a Trading Company Board and an Audit and Risk Committee.

In early 2020 the museum celebrated its tenth birthday since its new building was opened (as well as marking thirty years in Greater Manchester) and had begun the process of developing a new vision, mission and strategy for its next decade. That work may have been interrupted by the COVID-19 pandemic, but we still have ambitious plans for the coming years - to scale-up our work, to reach larger and more diverse audiences, to deliver on a national and international level, to push ourselves with digital technology and to achieve an even bigger impact for our audiences and communities through all that we do.

In 2021, PHM will continue to recover from and respond to the COVID-19 pandemic which will continue to have an impact on audience engagement, income streams and online engagement for some time. The museum has so far responded with resilience and with creativity; continuing to be committed to community collaboration and co-curation. Emergency funding and support has been crucial and there will continue to be a job to do in securing income in the short, medium and long term.

The museum team will look ahead to create shared business plans for 2021-22 and 2022-23 in the first half of 2021, as well as thinking about the bigger picture and a clear shared vision for the impact that PHM wants to make on the world. The museum's pre-pandemic business plan can be found here and an impact report produced to mark PHM's tenth birthday can also be found here.

Diversity

PHM prides itself on being a welcoming and inclusive organisation, profoundly committed to advancing equality and diversity in the broadest sense. We value the benefits that diverse perspectives bring to PHM's work for people of all ages to learn about, be inspired by and get involved in ideas worth fighting for; ideas such as equality, social justice, co-operation, and a fair world for all.

We recognise we currently under-represent Black people and People of Colour, disabled, and LGBTQ+ people and those with intersecting identities in our workforce; PHM are actively working to address this and encourage applications from these backgrounds. While the successful candidate will be selected purely on merit, in the event of a tie between two candidates with equal experience, we may select a candidate who helps us better represent the communities the museum serves.
